

pact

an agreement between people or countries in which they promise to do certain things queasy

having a sick feeling in your stomach foisted

given to you, whether you want it or not venture

a project that is exciting and even risky annoyed

to be somewhat angry or bothered by something depriving

keeping someone from having something